

EX-POLICE CHIEF IS MADE CITIZEN

Roderick McKenzie, Once Disbarred From Office, Now Full-Fledged Voter.

CAUSED MUCH LAUGHTER

FORCED TO ACCEPT OFFICE, AND THEN OBLIGED TO RESIGN.

Roderick McKenzie, native of Canada, is now a citizen of the United States. He was naturalized yesterday at a hearing before Judge C. W. Morse of the district court, and at the same sitting John McQueen of England, and Soren M. Rasmussen of Denmark, were also admitted to full citizenship in the United States in general and Utah in particular.

Back of granting of citizenship papers to Roderick McKenzie is an interesting story of politics and city government which set all Salt Lake to laughing about three years ago. When George Sheets, now chief of detectives, was in bad as a result of the McWhirter $10,000 robbery, he was forced to resign as chief of police and Mayor John S. Bransford appointed Roderick McKenzie in his place. McKenzie didn't know anything about criminology or how to handle blue-coats, and it was not until a whole lot of urging had been done that he was able to accept the position. McKenzie had been prominent in Salt Lake for so long that everyone thought he was a citizen—in fact, the question was never raised.

But one day a reporter bumped into the fact that McKenzie had taken only his first papers, had never voted in an election in Utah, and was not a qualified elector. McKenzie was asked by the reporter to resign, the story was published, and he did resign. He had been in the department about six months, and was just getting the run of things—had just about learned the ropes, so to speak, when he had to drop the reins and go back to his stone-cutting business in South State street. McKenzie was such a good fellow that it was a shame to do it, but, not being a citizen of the United States, he could not hold public office.

"I was just getting to the position where I found that I could really be of great service to a whole lot of people and I wish I could have continued in the work," said McKenzie, when he handed in his resignation to the mayor. There was a general laugh throughout Salt Lake when it became known that McKenzie was not a citizen, but the ex-chief had a good time and laughed with the rest.

But now he has foreworn all allegiance to the British lion, and is a real, full-fledged citizen of the state, qualified to vote at least once at each election in Salt Lake. And it is not beyond the pale of possibility that some day in the not far distant future, McKenzie may be roped, tied and forced to try his hand as chief of the police department of Salt Lake. And if this does happen, his citizenship cannot be raised as a bar.

TWO CONTRACTS LET BY SALT AIR COMPANY

Two important contracts were entered into yesterday by the Salt Air Beach company, one whereby John McNary, of Brooklyn, N. Y., a widely known hotel man, takes a lease on the Ship restaurant at the big resort on Great Salt lake, and the other with W. E. Sutherland, for the erection of 708 bath houses, mention of which has previously been made. The contract with Mr. Sutherland was signed yesterday morning and he immediately began work, the contract calling for the completion of all of the new bath houses by May 25.

Mr. McNary has had years of experience in the hotel business. He will open a cafeteria in connection with the restaurant at the resort this year, for the first time in its history, and a very successful summer is anticipated.

FAVOR PLAN TO CHANGE CALENDAR

Salt Laker's Suggestions Are Beginning to Bear Fruit.

The proposition to change the present day calendar, and bring about a different reckoning of time, as suggested by C. A. F. Orlieb of Salt Lake, is beginning to meet with more or less general favor. Senator Reed Smoot has assured Mr. Orlieb of his interest in the matter and has agreed to talk with leading members of the Senate in relation to the same. He has intimated that if there appears to be any chance to secure favorable action of a proposition, such as Mr. Orlieb proposes, he will be glad to offer a resolution.

Mr. Orlieb's suggestion is that beginning with December 30, 1911, New Year's day be eliminated as the first day of January, that it be a day of itself, with no reckoning in the calendar. This would have a tendency to make any date in any year fall on the same day each year. The year proper would end on December 30, the next day would be New Year's day, and the following day January 1. New Year's day, under the proposed change, will bear no date, neither will it be a Sunday, Monday or any other day in the week. In case of leap year a Mid-year's day would be inserted between June 30 and July 1.

The result of such a change in the reckoning of time would mean that all public holidays would fall on the same day of the week. There might be some objection to people having their birthday always come on a Sunday, but the greatest objection, it would seem, might come from the small boy, born on February 29, who even has a birthday only once in four years, and who under the new plan would never have one unless he observed it the preceding day.

Mr. Orlieb has been quietly working on his proposed plan for many months and it now begins to look as though it may bear fruit after all. With Senator Reed Smoot interested, the proposition of leading United States senators will be attracted and if anything can be done, they may be depended to do their part.

SLAYER OF SOLDIER FACES FEDERAL JURY

Laura Vandaveer Shaunty Tells of Shooting Her Husband at Fort Douglas Last Month.

The federal grand jury yesterday listened to testimony in the case of Laura Vandaveer Shaunty, charged with the murder of Private Paul Shaunty at Fort Douglas last month. The case was under consideration by the grand jury when it adjourned last Friday, and it was resumed yesterday.

One of the most important witnesses to appear during the afternoon was Mrs. Shaunty. The grand jury was desirous of hearing her story, and she was accordingly brought from the county jail in the custody of Deputy Marshal Julian Riley.

She remained in the jury room a long time, and upon emerging was visibly affected. She was at once returned to jail.

Captain Willis Uline of Fort Douglas was also called as a witness. The murder occurred near the rear door of his quarters, although he was absent at the time. His stay in the grand jury room was brief. The testimony of other witnesses was taken and several more were waiting to be called when adjournment was taken.

PICK UP GARBAGE CANS.

Receptacles for Rubbish Left Out Sundays Will Be Confiscated.

Leaving garbage cans out in the street over Sunday is getting to be a costly oversight or foresight—as the case may be—for Dr. S. G. Paul, city health commissioner, has issued orders that every time cans are found on the streets Sunday, when the garbage was collected Saturday or is to be taken up Monday, they should be picked up by the garbage wagons and carted away. This was done Sunday, and about thirty cans were taken from the business district. The garbage had been taken from them, but they were left standing in the street. The cans were hauled to the crematory and there destroyed.

WE WANT EVERY NERVOUS WOMAN TO READ THIS

It Tells How a Minnesota Woman Was Cured by the Tonic Treatment When Well Nigh Discouraged.

If every pale, weak, nervous woman who reads these lines would try the remedy that cured Mrs. Edwards there would be far less suffering, fewer children born to a heritage of weak nerves, fewer unhappy homes.

Weak nerves mean irritability, hysteria, headaches, melancholia, perhaps insanity. Build up the nerves by using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, at the same time toning up the general health, and you will see an increasing appetite, a happier disposition, a lighter step, freedom from lassitude, a return to sound and refreshing sleep.

Mrs. E. M. Edwards, of Spring Valley, Minn., highly recommends Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to all nervous sufferers. This remedy gave her permanent relief after other treatment had failed to help her. She says:

"A few years ago I was completely run down and was in bed for nearly one year. For two years I was as miserable as anyone could be and live. I was weak and extremely nervous. Everyone had to be quiet around me for such a little thing as the slamming of the door would greatly upset my nerves. I could not rest at night. My stomach was out of order and everything I ate gave me distress. I had palpitation of the heart, dizzy spells and shortness of breath.

"The doctors pronounced my trouble to be nervous prostration. I grew worse under their treatment and gave it up. I then started using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and, after taking a few boxes, I was so encouraged that I took them steadily until cured. I can truthfully say that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a wonderful medicine."

If you are suffering from any nervous trouble, as neuralgia, sciatica, nervous headache, nervous dyspepsia, St. Vitus' dance, partial paralysis or locomotor ataxia, send today for our new booklet, "Diseases of the Nervous System," which is free upon request. This booklet explains how the health of the nerves depends on pure, red blood and shows what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have accomplished in the treatment of nervous diseases. If you are not being benefited by the treatment you are taking you should not delay giving these pills a trial. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.
